

THE LAWRENCEVILLE/PRINCETON ANTIQUES SHOW

THE PRINCETON AREA'S PREMIER ANTIQUES SHOW

Most times, consistency is everything. Now celebrating twenty-three years, this ever-popular benefit antiques show for Womanspace, Inc. will be presented February 13 & 14 at the National Guard Armory on Eggert Crossing Rd., just off Rte. 206 in Lawrenceville, N.J., approximately 5 miles south of downtown Princeton.

For the past twenty-two years, this show has presented quality dealers offering a constant variety of antiques in the intimate setting of the Armory's ceremonial room. The offerings include both formal and country furniture, paintings, textiles, porcelain, silver, jewelry and all the accessories one would need for serious collecting or decorating your home.

Many of the Lawrenceville/Princeton dealers come back to the show year after year including Red Sleigh Antiques of Langhorne, PA; H & L Antiques – Princeton of Princeton, NJ; Antiques Prints & Papers from Highland Park, NJ and Lorraine Wambold Estate Jewelry from Doylestown, PA. Also among the exhibitors at the show in 2010 are Tradewinds Fine Art from Narragansett, RI; Vintage Poster Art of NJ from Monroe Township, NJ and Material Pleasures, LLC of Princeton, NJ.

Mancuso Show Management, a New Hope, PA based show promotion company, has worked hand-in-hand with Womanspace, Inc. presenting this show from its inception. Womanspace is a well-established, non-profit Mercer County organization.

The agency has assisted women and children in crisis since 1977. For more information on this organization visit womanspace.org. This antiques show is an important fund-raiser for this deserving cause. For more information on Mancuso Show Management and its events visit MancusoShows.com.

Admission to the Lawrenceville/Princeton Antiques Show is $7, and children under 16 are free. Refreshments will be available. Free parking is provided at the National Guard Armory.
